BARBARA RUBEL, MA, BCETS, DAAETS
8 FABULOUS Steps to Resilience

YOUR NEXT PODCAST GUEST

Barbara's father died by suicide while she was in the hospital awaiting the birth of her triplets. His suicide taught her about meaning making, posttraumatic growth, and putting strengths into practice. Barbara is a nationally recognized keynote speaker and best-selling author. She has presented to over 500 groups since 1991, including corporations, state and national associations and non-profit organizations on burnout, compassion fatigue, and vicarious trauma. As a guest on your podcast, your listeners will learn techniques that lead to the results they want for managing chronic workplace stressors and loss. Barbara also offers strategies for employers to implement to manage grief in the workplace.

Occupational Burnout

Barbara will talk about ways to lessen burnout caused by chronic workplace stressors. Get tips and strategies to manage this occupational phenomenon and achieve job satisfaction.

Compassion Fatigue & Vicarious Trauma

Barbara will share 8 pillars of resilience. Identify the steps to put eight strengths into practice to mitigate the impact of compassion fatigue and vicarious trauma.
